This is a site to collect cool stuff. There are tons of cool apps and games that I've been looking for and what I have done is make a site where they are all contained in one place. Please take a look around and tell your friends so they can come and look at our site as well. Hey guys. So who of you guys are the social media generation or are you guys from the older generations? I ask this because I would like to get some feedback from those who have no clue what social media is. In order to expand this site and continue to get cool stuff in here, I would like to ask those who are not into the social media craze to get on Twitter or Facebook. Sorry for the long message guys, but I really want to get this site built and see it grow. So please check out the Twitter and Facebook pages. Also please vote for the site. Also the site is an advertisement free site. I make money through Affiliate marketing, currently using Fancy affiliate network. In case you are interested in, look at the website for ads. I have other affiliate networks and other ad networks that I use. I don't want any of that in the site. The site is for you guys and girls. Thank you for checking out this website. Have a nice day!
